Darrell --

Here is a letter requesting a discussion and further guidance on the "in-scope" decision making processes for PAG substances that are reported in new PMNs. As we have discussed, the PAG Consortium members continue to think there would be value gained by scheduling a meeting soon, to enable a small cadre of the PAG Consortium's "technical team" members to confer with their counterparts in RAD. During such a meeting, we would like to learn more about the Agency's decision making process and collaboratively: (a) share perspectives on the kinds of information that might be available to assist EPA personnel in making such determinations; and (b) exchange insights based on recent experiences gained in the few months since the initial group of Section 5(e) Consent Orders were signed.

The Consortium's technical team members generally are available at 3 pm eastern on Thursdays. Perhaps that time also would work for you and a small group of your colleagues who are engaged in the pertinent process. I will contact you soon to follow-up and look for mutually convenient dates.

As a courtesy and for the sake of continuity, I am copying Tala and Lynn; unfortunately, due to recent personnel changes, I am not certain of others in the OCSPP management chain who also have an interest in this topic.

As always, I look forward to speaking again soon.

Larry
